In touching on "the negro question" as affecting the Grand Army of the Republic, General Veatey reviewed the difficulties which had existed over the posts in the departments of Louisiana and Mississippi ever since they organized in 1809. Continuing, he said the charge had been made from different sources that the organization of these posts was tainted with irregularities utterfy destructive of their legal existence. "Our rules and regulations," he said, "provide a plain procedure for the department to pursue in order to test the validity of the charges. As the departments of Louisiana and Mississippi have never, so far as I am informed, resorted to that procedure, I have held in dealing with those posts that they must be regarded as having a legal existence until otherwise regularly adjudicated."

The commander-in-chief ordered an investigation by the inspector general into the affairs of this department. The recommendation of the inspector general was that this encampment authorize the creation of a secontate department covering the While France was isolated, he said, there was a strong temptation from the capricious German Emperor to plunge Germany into war. The reapproachment between France and Russia removed that danger. France, however, had mainly herself to blame, her obstinacy in her policy in the Egyptian and Newfoundland questions throwing England into the arms of Germany and the dreibund.

The location of the next encampment having been settled, the interest of the encampment is now chiefly centered in the election of a commander-in-chief. Captain John Palmer, of New York, A. G. Weissert, of Wisconsin, and Colonel W. R. Smedberg, of California, are the leading condicates and the set of these candidates, and it is safe to say one of these will be elected. The long and stubborn contest in the New York delegation between Palmer and Hedges, ended to-day in a victory for Palmer, after several caucuses had been held. To-morrow's battle promises to be a very interesting three cornered struggle, with the chances somewhat in tavor of Palmer, since he is to receive the united support of the New York delegation.

The Agency in Washington for Prosecuting Claims Against Uncle Sam-The Arrest of the Agent.

Special to THE HERALD-Examiner Dispatch]

CHICAGO, Aug. 5 .- A reluctant but none ble fraud was elicited to day from one of the victims. Not the least interesting feature of the case is the fact that the chief company in the United States court. The appeal is from Judge Wallace's recent decision that Thomas A. Edison is the original inventor of the incandescent lamp to the new appellate court by the United States Electric Lighting company, who alter the interiocutory decree granting an injunction.

Personage is a typical washingted agent, whose operations have been so extensively curtailed of late by the Enumer's newly estar I had bureau of claims at the national capital. The arrest at Washingten of Loring B. Loomis compulsory return to Chicago to stand trial for a number of embezalements committed by cunningly devised plans yet unearthed to fleece persons who hold claims against the United States. Loomis had his scheme already underway and in a few months he would have drawn untold thousands of dollars from unsuspecting people who confided their claims to his "agency." Loomis was arrested in Washington about July 23 by Detective Greehalge, of Chicago, on a requisition issued by Governor Fifer, of Illinois, comformably to the finding of two indictments for em-bezzlement against him by the Cook county grand jury. His career in Chicago prior to his flight with some $14,000 of other peo-pie's money, seemed to be a sort of pre-paratory school for his more extensively planned bogus claim "agency" in Wash-ington.
